Generic Records Retention Schedule

RELEASE DATE: MAY 8, 2019

REVISION DATE: JUNE 2021

This Generic Records Retention Schedule (GRRS) was created by the OASBO Privacy and Information Management Committee (PIM), reviewed by a certified Records and Information Management Professional, and legally vetted.

The goal of the committee was to provide a simplified Records Retention Schedule in order to make it easy for anyone in a school district to implement a compliant records management practice. The guide has been published in various formats enabling school districts to customize it to meet their needs. While the document is editable, it is important to note that these guidelines identify the minimum amount of time, based on legislation, that a record must be kept.

Board records are vital to the organization. They are the corporate memory of the school Board. The records created in the course of your work:

- do not belong to you;
- are the property of the Board;
- are a corporate asset;
- are important sources of administrative, fiscal, legal, evidential and historical information;
- records must be accessible and available for current and future needs.

School boards are required to comply with information access and privacy legislation and must be able to fulfill requests for information from individuals or organizations in an efficient, thorough and timely manner. In order to accomplish these goals, a solid records management program must be in place.

Records management refers to the creation, maintenance, use and disposal of the records of an organization throughout their entire lifecycle. Records management also ensures that vital information is available to support the business of the organization.

Record Defined

A Record is any information however recorded whether in print form, on film, by electronic means, or otherwise. Records can be in many formats: paper, video, audio, microfilm, or electronic. Examples of records include the following:

- email;
- text message;
- digital media;
- websites;
- electronic document management systems.

A Transitory Record is useful for only a short time and has minor importance. When its use is over it should be deleted or destroyed. Examples of transitory records include the following:

- personal messages;
- general notices and announcements;
- copies of documents and emails;
- cc, bcc, or FYI emails kept only for convenience;
- drafts and working documents to prepare final records with a few exceptions such as agreements/contracts, drafts in developing legislation.

A Non-Record has no bearing on the organization's functions, operations, or mandate. Non-records are typically used, if ever, only for a very limited period of time. They do not have to be collected and maintained. These documents are not required to be retained and therefore do not appear on a records retention schedule. Examples of non-records include the following:

- reference books;
- published legislation from other boards, municipalities or government agencies;
- extra copies/convenience copies.

Legislation

Managing information is fundamental to organizational efficiency, effectiveness, and economy. School boards manage records in accordance with statutory and organizational requirements in order to maintain an authentic and reliable record of its actions, transactions and decisions.

Some of the important legislation related to school board records management are:

- Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA);
- Personal Health Information Protection Act (PHIPA);
- Education Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter E.2;
- Evidence Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter E.23;
- Personal Health Information Protection Act

however, there are many other pieces of legislation that contain records management requirements.

Why Records Management

Why do we need records management?

Records management ensures:

- the protection of records vital to the administration and governance of the Board;
- the protection of our valuable historical records;
- a common expectation of available and accessible information;
- a framework for effective, efficient, and economical information management practices.

Can school boards deviate from the retention periods specified in this document?

Yes. This schedule provides the minimum retention requirements based on legislation, however; a board may decide to keep records longer based on operational need. Any retention beyond legislated minimums should be based on informed and justifiable records management decisions.

Do I have to follow a records retention schedule? Why?

Yes. To ensure accountability and transparency, school board employees have an obligation to manage records in accordance with statutory and organizational requirements. Accurate and consistent classification and retrieval procedures support good business practices.

Any record created in your professional capacity, is a record belonging to the Board.

Who is responsible for managing records?

All school board employees must ensure that records, for which they are responsible, are accurate, complete, and are retained and disposed of in accordance with the approved records retention schedule.

This records retention schedule identifies the Department of Responsibility for a record. The department of responsibility is the creator or source of a record and therefore holds the official record. The department of responsibility must follow the minimum retention as set out by the Board's records retention schedule. Copies and duplicates of records are transitory records and do not need to be retained.

How to Use this Records Retention Schedule

A records retention schedule is an essential component of any records management program. It provides guidelines governing the minimum amount of time a record must be maintained and its disposition based on legislation and operational need.

Records are categorized by their content regardless of their format (e.g. paper, video, audio, microfilm, or electronic). As well, records are further organized by Business Function (function). The functions in this guide are as follows:

BUSINESS FUNCTIONS

Administration (Function Title)

The function of overseeing the administration of the team and units within the board/authority and schools. Records supporting this function relate to administrative committees' decisions and meetings, and internal administrative support or services. The functions of acquiring and managing equipment, supplies, services and materials for schools.

Communications & Public Relations (Function Title)

The function of promoting and marketing boards/authorities/schools and programs and services. Records in this function include board/authority/school communication and press releases, speeches, websites, public relations activities, events and news releases; materials relating to marketing research, publications and reports.

Facilities Management (Function Title)

The function of managing and maintaining board/ authority buildings and facilities and supporting capital initiatives and building improvements. Records include maintenance and operations reports, requests and logs, environmental testing of facilities, equipment maintenance and testing, facilities planning and improvements, capital and non-capital projects, inspection reports, and records relating to property acquisition and disposition, building and office renovations, security, and property management relationships such as parking.

Financial Management (Function Title)

The function of managing board/authority/school financial and accounting resources. Includes establishing and operating and maintaining accounting (payables, receivables, revenue) systems, controls and procedures, financial planning, reporting, preparing budgets and budget submissions, and the monitoring and analysis of capital assets. Records include but are not limited to accounts payable and receivable, budgets, audits, benefits accounting, expense payments, financial reporting, fixed asset management and all matters regarding the allocation and control of funds.

Governance & Legal (Function Title)

The function of governing boards/authorities/schools and exercising legal authority and control. The corporate governance structure specifies the distribution of rights and responsibilities among different participants in boards/authorities/schools, such as the board and staff, and spells out the rules and procedures for making decisions on its affairs. Includes resolutions, bylaws, policies and procedures, charters, board meeting administration, and strategic planning.

Also, the function of addressing legal issues relating to the operations of the board/ authority and schools. Records include, but are not limited to, claims and litigation files, appeals and hearings, contracts and agreements entered into on behalf of the board/ authority and schools, deeds and titles relating to properties, harassment incidents, etc.

Human Resources Management (Function Title)

The function of managing all employees within the organization in accordance with policies and procedures. Records include but are not limited to personnel records, employee collective agreements, employee information (including medical information), conditions of work, overtime, salary rates, pensions, benefits, payroll records, grievances, performance evaluations and recruitment.

Planning & Research (Function Title)

The function of undertaking research and planning to support the ongoing operations of the school and board. Records include but are not limited to research surveys, studies and reports which address issues such as school boundaries, student demographics, municipal planning and statistics used to support Ministry funding requests.

Program Design & Development (Function Title)

The function of applying curriculum guidelines and designing education programs for students. Records include but are not limited to proposals, correspondence, lesson plans, and course outlines.

Student Services (Function Title)

The function of providing students with programs and services in accordance with the Education Act. Records cover such areas as admissions, transfers and withdrawals, Ontario Student Records, guidance and counselling, assessments, consent/ permission forms for special activities and programs, and extra-curriculum programs and participation. Records include but are not limited to student marks, program participation records, examination and testing records, and counselling records.

Retention Schedule Explained

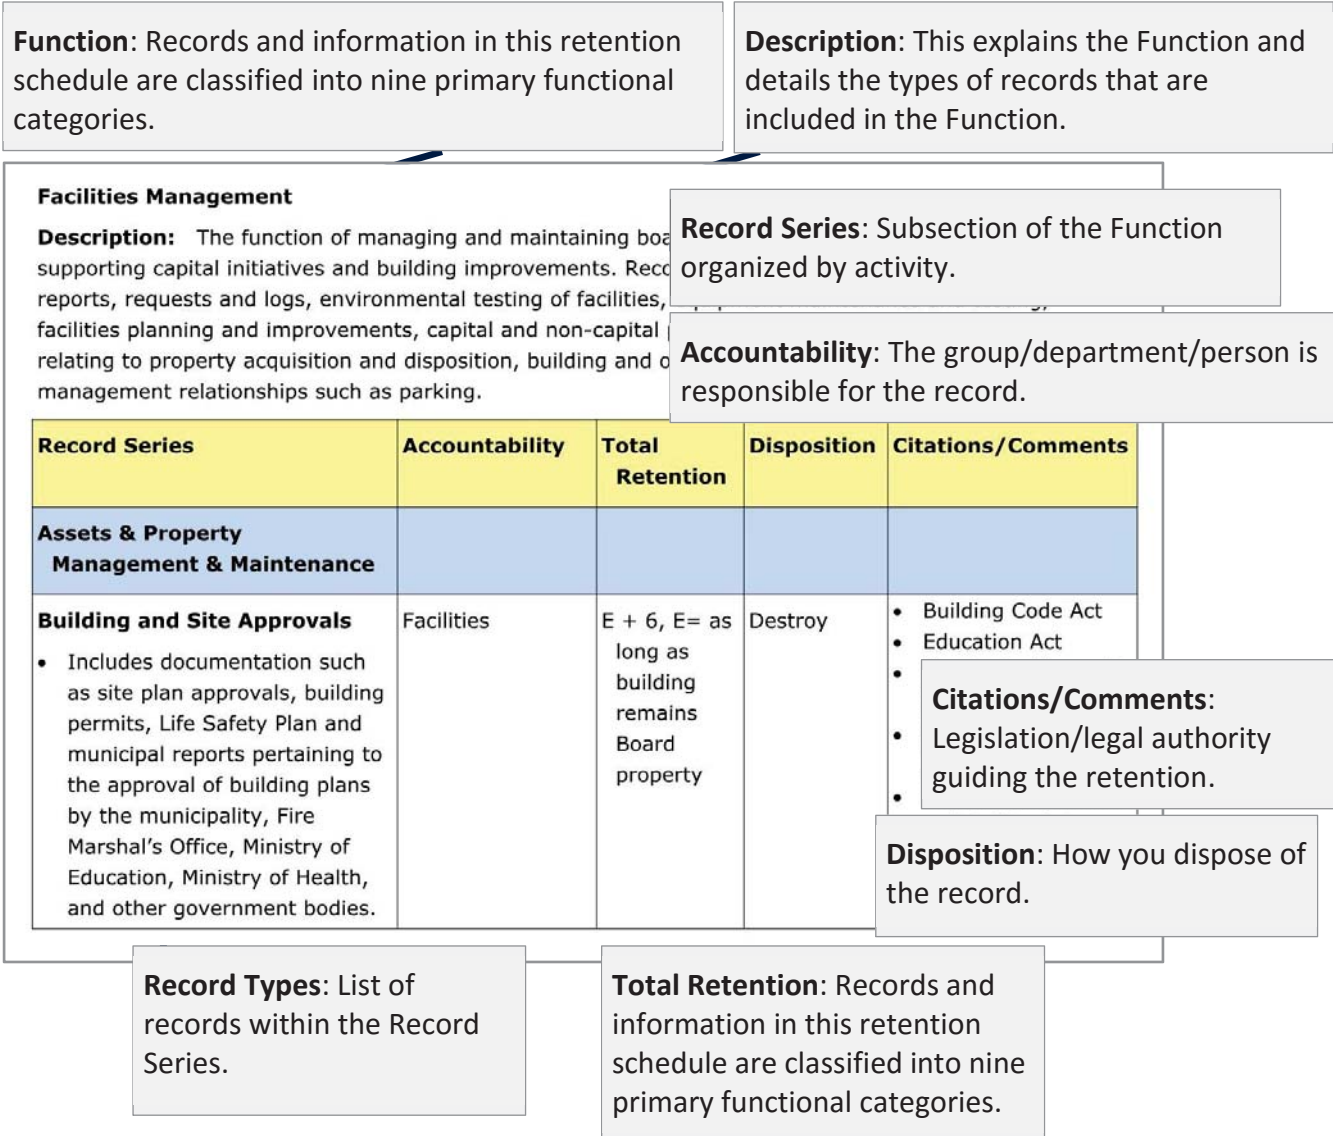

Image of Retention Schedule with all areas defined.

Retention Schedule Terms and Timeframes

The retention schedule includes a minimum retention period based on applicable legislation and business need. The following explains the Codes used in the Total Retention column of the Records Retention Schedule. The schedule also includes a minimum retention period based on applicable legislation and business need.

Archival Review

Refers to reviewing the records series before destruction to see whether they have an historic significance prior to destruction. This is different from archival because in the case of an archival designation the entire records series is kept for posterity, whereas in archival selection before destruction records are “selected” for potential historic significance.

CY (Current School Year)

Refers to September 1st to August 31st.

FY (Fiscal Year)

Refers to September 1st to August 31st.

Destroy

Requires that upon expiration of the retention period the document is destroyed – shredded, recycled, deleted (expunged).

S/O

Refers to the replacement of a document once it has been updated or revised. The new document supersedes the previous version.

E (Event)

Trigger for disposition. The trigger is the item that has to happen to start the retention period.

PIB (Personal Information Bank)

Refers to records in which individuals are identifiable. (e.g. home address, phone number, social insurance number, image/photo, employee number). This information is protected under MFIPPA.
